Miss Anderson won $200 and a trip to Chicago with an all-expenses paid week at the Palmer House hotel.

This is the first time that the top honors have come west.

Sisney Suffers Game Injuries

Charles Sisney, 21, senior social science major, suffered a brain concussion as a result of injuries received in an intramural softball game Thursday.

He was taken to the McFadden Health Cottage for treatment where he regained consciousness. An examination showed that he had suffered a brain injury and his parents were notified, according to Miss Margaret Twombly, Health department director.

He was then removed to the care of his family's medical advisers in Hayward, she added.

Record Election Vote Cast As 35 Per Cent Go To Polls

By BOB STRIEGEL

In a record smashing vote turnout, Art Lund, 21-year-old junior, won the Associated Student Body presidential race by taking a majority vote on the second ballot over the three other candidates.

Paul Sakamoto scored a victory on the first ballot for the office of vice president.

A total of 2388 ballots were cast in the two-day election Thursday and Friday, breaking the 1950 record by 158. Another broken record was the 35.8 per cent of students voting. The previous high was 27.8 per cent in 1950.

On the first ballot for president, Lund led with 1122. He was followed by Don Schlote, 516; Carl Pagter, 432, and Percy Rivers, 276. In a surprise write-in vote, Stan Croonquist, Student Court chief justice, collected 41 first place votes.

Lund established a majority of 1207 on the second ballot, compared to 596 for Schlote and Pagter's 509.

Sakamoto won the "veep" position with 1185, while Vern Perry was runner-up with 740. The other candidate, Bill Tyler, scored 444 votes.

The office of recording secretary was won by E. J. Bailey, winning on the first ballot over Doris Mortara and Barbara Taylor.

Carol Hotchkiss beat her only rival for corresponding secretary, Diane Martinsen.

The treasurer position went to John Denney, who led Bert Haight and Ed Klein.

For Senior class representative Pat Spooner was the victor over Gwyneth Wents.

In one of the few close races of the elections, Bob Weiss barely squeezed four other opponents for Sophomore class representative.

Female representative-at-large went to Joy Mitchell with Jan Wilson a close runner-up.

The most spirited race in the elections saw Don Hubbard win the male representative-at-large position.

Dick Kissick was the winning candidate for male senior justice.

Gretchen Umland will be the new female justice. She ran unopposed for this office.

The constitutional amendment on the ballot, preventing any student on scholastic probation from holding either an elective or appointive office, was passed by a landslide, 1859 to 135.

In AWS elections the following were elected: president, Betty Wisser; first vice president, Marilyn Reinsted; second vice president, Betty Dwyer; secretary, Ruth Oakleaf; treasurer, Ann Dutton.

Duncanson Talks To 300 Persons On East Problems

Stressing the problem of adjusting between the East and West John Dennis Duncanson spoke to an audience of more than 300 persons Friday in the Concert hall.

The lecture series speaker spoke on "East Meets West—What That Means in Singapore." The British diplomat and world traveler stated that many of the problems which exist between the East and West today are the result of difficulties in adjustment between the two areas.

Duncanson, 36, spent his last three years in the British diplomatic service in Singapore working in the department of Chinese Affairs.

Trying to increase the civic consciousness of the area, the British are teaching English, training professionals and civil service personnel, maintaining armed forces, and encouraging athletics.

Duncanson explained that Malaya is dependent upon the rest of the world for raw materials. He also noted that Malaya, a small country, will always be under someone's sphere of influence.

He concluded that the Communists are making little headway in the area and that most of the people are against the Communists.

SJS To Give Carmen Dragon Honorary Master's Degree

Authority to grant an honorary Masters degree to Carmen Dragon was given to San Jose State college Friday by the State Board of Education, according to a United Press news dispatch.

In 1931, Dragon entered SJS and majored in music, playing first string bass in the orchestra and first trombone in the band. He organized the Carmen Dragon orchestra in 1933 and became popular in the Bay area.

Duncan Says Show Success

Dr. Carl D. Duncan, division of natural science chairman, stated that he was highly pleased with the annual open house held by the department on Thursday.

More than 4000 persons attended the showing. He attributed the lower attendance from last year to the fewer public school classes visiting.

He felt reaction to Dr. Lester Reukema's address was generally very favorable, and that interest shown by the visitors was greater than in the past.

A high school class from King City apparently traveled the longest distance of any group in attendance.

Loyalty Oath Bill

Dear Thrust and Parry:

At the meeting of the Instructors' Assn. Thursday, attorneys John Mark Chargin and Michael DiLeonardo both expressed opposition to loyalty oath legislation.

Attorney John Chargin said that loyalty oath legislation is contrary to our fundamental legal principle of presumption of innocence until guilt is proved through regular court action or due process. Test oaths switch the burden of proof from the State to the accused. Damage is done without recourse before remedy can be sought. Abridging civil liberties of public employees and professional people may be legal, but it is also a means of curtailing freedom and progress generally. Loyalty oath legislation is supposed to catch communists or subversives in the trap of perjury, but this is hard to prove and the trap endangers all citizens, especially in the summary treatment of persons summoned before legislative committees or administrative boards.

Attorney Michael DiLeonardo began his discussion of the supposed advantages of loyalty oath legislation by saying that he is opposed to such legislation. Courts do not test whether legislation is good or bad, but only whether it is constitutional—within the power of the legislature. Few people are in favor of loyalty oath legislation, but they do not want to be listed as being in disfavor. The proponents of loyalty oaths argue that such legislation is necessary to catch communists, to publicize the pressing problems of a fifth column and attacks possible by inside adherents of an outside enemy, and that the oaths hurt no one.

Attorney DiLeonardo stressed that philosophical, moral problems are all important, that injustice to one or to some is an injustice to all. Those who feel they are so moral that loyalty oath inquisition and damage can not touch them are immoral if they allow others to be injured. The moral and citizenship duty is to see that all civil liberties are upheld.

Attorneys Chargin and DiLeonardo both believe that California loyalty oath legislation is well drawn and is likely to be upheld by the U. S. Supreme Court. They also believe that the court will strike down the legislation as cases develop and are brought before it. The court has a policy of ruling on particular cases rather than on philosophical questions.

New legislation designed to protect persons accused under loyalty oath legislation can be passed, and is likely to be passed, by Congress and by the state legislatures. Before the courts can act and before protective legislation can be passed, many good citizens are apt to be harmed, and much damage to the nation can be suffered. Strong public opinion against arbitrary action under loyalty oath legislation can be an immediate and great safeguard.

The SJS Alumni Review for May carries an analysis of California loyalty oath legislation, and a further treatment will appear in the June issue.

OWEN BROYLES

Cut—And Dyed

Dear Thrust and Parry:

I'm not one to make a fuss about every little thing, but when one wants to air his views on what he considers an important matter only to have them mutilated by some editor before they reach the reader, I feel, warrants a little righteous indignation!

Hence, I would like to propose that the Spartan Daily adopt the policy of printing a Thrust and Parry letter in its entirety or not at all. Even in a seemingly harmless condensation (without the censorship or consent of the author) many times the main thesis is either entirely omitted or misconstrued by an inexperienced or biased editor. This was the case with the article appearing in Thursday's paper entitled "Potential Bombs."

The ideas and feelings constituting the proposed remedy for this moral and spiritual problem were omitted entirely. Could it be that the editors are in favor of the sordid stories and jokes that illustrate the dry, uninteresting lectures in college and high school classrooms?

Could it be that you are not interested in the moral and spiritual growth of the American family which, according to the original content of the article, should be in Sunday School and church on Sunday morning rather than lounging on the beach with a pile of comic books? These are just two of the ideas that were entirely omitted!

If a person has something to say let him say it. If it's too long, don't print it. I think this would save a lot of misunderstandings and hard feelings.

When a person thinks—and expresses his thoughts—he likes them to be his own. If those thoughts are worth while he likes to feel that satisfaction derived from them; if they make him appear a fool, he still enjoys the satisfaction of knowing that he, rather than another, is the author of his foolishness.

EDITOR'S NOTE: We refer Mr. Holmes to the issues of the Spartan Daily of April 5, 1954. In an editor's note carried in the Thrust and Parry column that day we expressed the right to edit all contributions which exceeded the 250 word limit we have set.

The editing of Thrust and Parry letters is not done for any reasons of personal bias on the part of the editors but only to conform with space limitations. We urge all contributors to edit their own letters and therefore not risk the chance of having them "mutilated."

Tensing Norkey in a scene from "Conquest of Everest".

'Everest' Picture Thrilling Account Of Great Feat

(Prepared Review)

There are no damsels — blonde, brunette or otherwise — in "The Conquest of Everest"; no handsome leading men; no dark-visaged villains; no plot except the almost exhausting suspense engendered by real people struggling against terrific odds and against the ever-present spectre of imminent disaster.

"The Conquest of Everest," filmed in Technicolor which opened yesterday, May 9th, at the Saratoga Theatre through United Artists release, is the complete film record of the first ascent to the top of Mount Everest, the highest on earth.

It is a film document of the achievement of the British expedition which, last Spring, conquered Everest for the first time in history, and presented the triumph to its Queen in time for the Coronation.

The cast of "The Conquest of Everest" is an all-star cast — not of actors, but of mountaineers; the best available practitioners of the fantastically difficult and dangerous sport.

The outstanding members of the cast are, of course, Sir Edmund Hillary and Bhotia Tensing Norkey, the pair who were selected by the leader of the expedition, Colonel Hunt, to make the final assault on Everest's hitherto unreachable summit, 29,002 feet above sea-level.

SHY GUYS

If you don't think there are modest football players, take a look at this list of gridmen who failed to fill out publicity sheets to be used in the fall programs and for newspaper information. They are: Bill Beasley, h.; John Bugbee, e.; Dave Fanner, f.; Dick Forster, e.; Jim Hensel, t.; Pat Hiram, h.; Jim Johnson, q.; Mervin Lopes, e.; Tom Louderback, g.; Chuck Mancine, c.; Larry Meek, g.; Dick Redell, t.; George Rose, t.; Jack Smith, e.; Dick Thomas, g.; Joe Ulm, f.; Don Wadsworth, t.; Tom Yagi, c.; and of all people, Manager Uriel Tashima.

A GOOD JOB

Don McCarter has one of the better jobs on the San Jose State payroll. In the mornings he drives the pretties out to the tennis courts and in the afternoon he hauls Spartan athletes. Don likes the new bus which the college got for him, and he doesn't mind the 15 or 20 trips a day he makes to Spartan Stadium.

TRACK BANQUET

The track team is going to chow down Thursday evening in the Old Italian restaurant on St. Augustine St. We've heard about it, but haven't been able to contact anyone who knows all the details, such as what time. We'd like to know because we're invited. Somebody tell us, please.

ANOTHER BANQUET

Speaking of banquets reminds us that we are carrying tickets to a special kind of affair ourselves. This one is called "Deadline Dinner" and is being put on as the dying gasp of the male journalism majors who are members of the "30" Club. At this banquet there are going to be some red faces before the evening is over since some skits roasting things around the college have been prepared. Anyone interested should contact the members of the Sports Staff. We're selling up a storm.

ABOUT SOCCER

Julie Menendez is waiting for approval of his soccer program, and if it comes through, he'll issue a call for candidates for a varsity team. He needs about 13 more to make up a reasonable squad. It probably wouldn't do any harm to contact Julie as soon as possible if you're really interested.

BASEBALL BUSINESS

A Varsity baseball game slated for Friday with the Fort Ord nine may be moved to Thursday so that it won't interfere with the annual "Spring Bowl" football game. At least Coach Walt Williams has sent such a request to the army base. It's a good idea, and we hope the request is granted.

Team Shines; Coaches Happy After Session

By JOE BRYAN

Head Football Coach Bob Bronzan and assistants Gene Menges and Bill Perry were three happy men as they watched the San Jose Golden Raider football squad trudge off the field after Friday afternoon's game type scrimmage. Coach Bronzan said that he was well satisfied with the team and impressed with the aggressiveness of all the players. He termed the practice session the best of the spring. The success of the workout was due to a team effort according to Coach Bronzan.

A quartet of ends came in for praise from Coach Perry. He said that Clarence Weissman, Mervin Lopes, Charley Hardy and Merle Flatley were battling on even terms, and that not one of them had an end post cinched.

Also catching Coach Perry's eye were Tackle Eli Gardiner, Guard Tom Powers and Tackle Jack Crawford.

From the game, it looks like the Golden Raider offense can strike from anywhere on the field. Joe Ulm has taken up where he left off when declared ineligible last year. Halfback Roy Hiram looked like the same fellow that broke up the College of Pacific game two years ago. Herman Stokes displayed the reason he was chosen on the Little All-American team. Tony Teresa, the Salinas flash pulled a bootleg and then lateraled showing the reason for Hartnell's success last year.

His old teammate Clive Bullian ran wild when carrying the ball. Dave Fanner was plunging like a bull and then turning into a fleet halfback when he got past the line of scrimmage. Benny Pierce, veteran quarterback, coordinated a backfield composed of Bullian, Stokes and Ulm, and the combination scored well from inside their own territory.

Teresa's backfield was composed of Fanner, R. Hiram and Pat Hiram.

Music Club, Cagey Cagers Lead Loop

The Cagey Cagers and the Music department are in a tie for first place in the National League of intramural softball play as a result of last week's play.

The Cagey Cagers knocked over league-leading Phi Sigma Kappa, 3-0, and the Music Department continued its winning ways with a win over Sigma Alpha Epsilon, 18-3.

In other National League games, Pi Kappa Alpha beat Theta Xi, 8-1, while the Sigma Nu-Alpha Tau Omega score was not reported.

American League scores: Kappa Alpha over Delta Upsilon, 4-1; Sigma Chi over Sigma Pi, 14-3; Delta Sigma Phi over Kappa Tau, 7-2; and Theta Chi-Spartan Okies, not reported.

American Leagues games starting at 4 p.m.: Theta Chi and Delta Upsilon, diamond four; Kappa Alpha and Sigma Chi, diamond one; Sigma Pi and Delta Sigma Phi, diamond two; and Kappa Tau and Spartan Okies, diamond three. National League games starting at 5:20 p.m.: Lambda Chi Alpha and Sigma Nu, diamond four; Sigma Alpha Epsilon and Theta Xi, diamond one; Pi Kappa Alpha and Cagey Cagers, diamond three; Music Department and Phi Sigma Kappa, diamond two.

All Comers Track Meet Successful

With two new field records set and another tied, the San Jose State All Comers track and field meet must be termed successful, according to Coach Bud Winter.

Bud Held's 243 feet six inch javelin throw not only broke Held's own field record of 227 feet, nine inches, but was 13 feet longer than any spear toss in the United States so far this season, Winter said.

The other field record which was broken was the mile relay. A Ford Ord team composed of three former Spartans and Billy Tidwell of Emporia State Teachers College, Emporia, Kansas, was clocked at 3:19.5. Walt Burnett, Jim Burks and Lang Stanley were the other members of the team. The old record of 3:21.0 was set by the University of California in 1938 and tied by San Diego Naval Training Station last year.

A record-tying performance was turned in by Ken Mischal when he skimmed the high hurdles in 14.5. Lou Futrell of Fresno State set this record in 1942.

Double winners for the day included Tidwell, who romped off with the mile and half-mile; Meridith Gourdin, former Olympic games star and Cornell University competitor who represented Santa Clara County Youth Center, won the 100-yard dash, broad jump, and was second in the 220-yard dash; and Burnett who won the 220 and 440. After the meet Gourdin was presented a cup for being high point man for the day.

Lost among the galaxy of stars was a Class B mile performance by Co-captain Allen Dunn of the Spartan track team. Dunn chopped 10 seconds off his previous best and fought off a challenge by Jack Marden of College of Pacific to win in 4:33.9.

San Jose Frosh acquitted themselves well with Don Armstrong taking the Class A low hurdles from a stellar field by seven yards. Armstrong stumbled over the last hurdle. Billy Jo Wright finished second in the Class A shotput with a 51 foot 5½ inches, behind Earl Putnam of Fort Ord. Putnam's flip was one inch longer at 51 foot 6½ inches.

Class A team honors went to Fort Ord with 59 points. SCCYC was second with 39. San Jose State accumulated 35 for third place. Mather Field took fourth with 12½ points. Olympic Club scored 9 for fifth place. San Francisco State took sixth place with six points. Spartan Frosh totaled 4½ points for seventh place. Cal Poly wrapped up eighth place with four points. Unattached athletes accumulated 18 points.

Owen Rhodes, ineligible Spartan vaulter, and George Mattos of the SCCYC tied in the pole vault with 13 feet three inch jumps.

San Jose won Class B with 46 points. Others in order were SF State, SCCYC, Fort Ord, San Jose Frosh, Moffett Field, Mather Field, College of the Pacific. Unattached performers garnered 9½ points.

Held was voted a trophy as the outstanding athlete of the day.

Oldham Captures Seventh Victory Over Fresno, 7-2

A five-run rally in the eighth inning netted the San Jose State varsity baseball team a 7-2 victory over the Fresno Bulldogs at Municipal Stadium Friday.

The win was the Spartans' 10th and John Oldham's seventh win for the season. Oldham, in going all the way to the victory, struck out nine Fresno batters, giving him a total of 125 strikeouts for the year. Still having trouble with a sore arm, Oldham walked eight in the contest.

Both pitchers, Oldham and Ted Wills for Fresno, pitched shutout ball until the fifth inning. Oldham ran into trouble first in the top of the fifth when he gave up his first hit. Another hit scored two runs and the Bulldogs led going into the bottom half of the frame.

Ron Palma was hit by Wills to lead off the rally in the last half of the fifth. Reese Dick, pinch-hitting for Jim Coalter, singled to left field and Bill Pitcher sliced a ball to right field that was bobbled and all hands were safe. Oldham walked with the bases loaded and Palma checked across with the first Spartan tally. Lou Gambello, running for Dick, scored on Jack Richards' fly ball to left field.

Oldham settled down and permitted only one more hit, in the ninth.

Bill Anderson led off the big eighth for the Golden Raiders with a hard hit single into left center field. Pitcher and Oldham drew walks, loading the bases. Richards walked, scoring Anderson with the first of five "Spartan runs. Ron Walters also drew a walk to fill the bases, again after Pitcher had scored on a passed ball.

Don Visconti singled to left field scoring Oldham with the third Spartan tally. Dick Brady singled hard to left field to score Richards and Walters with the final runs of the inning.

None of the Spartans garnered more than one hit in the game. The Golden Raiders' six hits were spread among the same number of men. Walters, Visconti, Brady, Dick, Anderson and Pitcher all got singles in the game.

How the stars got started...

Red Barber says: "I was a student working my way through the University of Florida when I was asked to be substitute announcer on a farm program. That got me a job. In two years, I became chief announcer. My break in sports came in '34 when I broadcast Cincinnati Red games. Been doing Major League play-by-play ever since!"
